

Get a special spiral binder or blank journal because this is where you will write your homework, your dreams, your questions and your frustrations. If you get one of the larger spirals, the ones for 5 subjects, you can keep it longer, and won't have to go through several.

You will want to date each entry, because you'll go back to that page later, and realize that what you desired DID come true. You ARE a powerful attractor. It may be too, that you'll realize how quickly it came true for you, much faster than you anticipated.

Here is where you want to describe your dreams. You must be specific about them. If it's a car you want, write about the color, the model, the upholstery, the dashboard, how much mileage to the gallon you get. Put in everything you can think of. Use as much detail as possible. Get your pictures from the car dealership.

I have told the story many times about the woman in my class who wanted to marry a rich man, and she programmed that into her subconscious. She told her Magic Wanda, that she wanted to marry a rich man.

As it turned out, she fell in love with a man named Rich.

You must be specific and exacting in your desires. Your Magic Wanda takes you at your word.

Have a Passion

Describe the reason WHY you want what you do. Just having more money isn't a big enough reason to make you passionate about it. What will you do with more money, and exactly how much do you want? Is it to be able to pay your bills? Guess what! Thinking about paying bills, only get you more bills.

If becoming financially independent allows you to have more time with your family, or being able to travel the world, then those are reasons WHY and will excite you. Adding the emotion of excitement, joy, gratitude are the fires that stoke your ability to attract what you want.

To succeed on a huge level, your WHY must be bigger than you. Make it excite you.

When you write in Your Magic Book, write down what you want, and then rewrite it as if it has already happened. Your Magic Wanda cannot tell if something is real or just imagined. When you think about having the ability to travel, and write your feelings about having done it, it gets her moving to make it happen, she feels she's a step behind you, and since this is what you think about most, she attracts it to you.

Thinking about it and writing about it as if it has already happened, is a very important step in attracting what you want.

Maybe the details are particularly clear to you right now. That's okay, as you continue to focus on your dreams, the details and more ideas will come to you. Write them down.

It has been promoted as writing your future. Write down what you want your life to look like in the future. But write it as if you are already there. What happens daily, where do you go, who are you with—all these are things to think about.

When we just think about something, we tend to go over and over the same little points. When we write it down, we can see it in black and white and it allows us to move on to the next idea.

There is an actual energy flowing between your fingers and your brain. It works too, on the computer. If you would rather do your journaling on the computer, GO FOR IT. Take a few moments each time before you open your email, to make some comments in your online journal. No one will see it except you. But again, be sure to date each entry, so you can go back and see that you did attract what you wanted.

In my journaling, I have often put down my frustrations or questions. When I finish venting, I keep right on writing, and as thoughts come into my mind, I write them down. At the time, it seems the answers are just logical for the question I had or the frustration I was concerned about. But when I go back and reread that entry several days later, I am amazed at how profound those answers were. They definitely did NOT come from my own repertoire.

I have a friend who writes the questions with her dominant hand, and then puts the pen in the other hand, and the answers are written with that hand. I've tried it and I can't read my own writing. Since I can get my answers from outside this material realm with my right hand, I just continue writing, and the answers come to me.

However you want to do it is fine. One thing doesn't work for everyone.

I do know this, that Your Own Magic Wanda will answer you, give you hints, tips, and promptings that if you obey and follow, you will attract the lifestyle you deserve and desire.

Many blessings to you,
